WELCOME TO SDSU

Welcome to the Exchange Visitor Program at San Diego State University (SDSU). We are pleased to have you as an exchange visitor. This information packet is designed to help you understand the purpose of the Exchange Visitor Program and to introduce you to the major requirements of the program.

The J-1 Exchange Visitor category was developed to implement the Mutual Educational and Cultural Exchange Act (Fulbright-Hays Act) of 1961. The overall purpose of the Act, and the objective of the Exchange Visitor Program, is to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and the people of other countries by means of educational and cultural exchanges. The Exchange Visitor Program provides foreign nationals with opportunities to participate in exchange programs in the United States and then return home to share their experiences.

The United States Department of State (DOS) has designated San Diego State University (SDSU) as an Exchange Visitor Program sponsor for students and scholars in the J-1 visa category. DOS has appointed a Responsible Officer for the program as well as Alternate Responsible Officers.

STEP 1: UNDERSTAND YOUR J-1 PROGRAM

Form DS-2019

Enclosed with this packet is a Certificate of Eligibility for Exchange Visitor Status (J-Nonimmigrant), commonly referred to as the DS-2019. The DS-2019 outlines your program information and is used to help you obtain your J-1 visa. J-2 dependents are issued their own DS-2019 forms. The information on the DS-2019 has been entered into the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's Student Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS).

You are required to meet all of the terms and conditions stated on the DS-2019, so please read the document carefully. Please note that entry into the U.S. is for the sole purpose of carrying out the program stated in Item 4 of the DS-2019. Once you have reviewed your personal information and read the front and back of your DS-2019, please sign and date where indicated (bottom of page 1).

Form DS-7002 (J-1 Student Interns ONLY)

If you are in the J-1 Student Intern category, you should have received Form DS-7002 Training/Internship Placement Plan along with your DS-2019. The DS-7002 outlines the specifics of your internship, including tasks, objectives, cultural activities, and knowledge, skills, or techniques you will learn while participating in our program.

Please review the document carefully, and sign and date Section 3 on page 1. SDSU's J-1 Responsible Officer and your SDSU faculty mentor should have already signed the document. Bring the signed DS-7002 with you when you attend your visa appointment.

Minimum Financial Support Requirements

Participants in the J-1 Exchange Visitor Program should provide proof of sufficient financial support to cover all expenses. Below is a breakdown of the minimum financial support requirements per month based on the type of J visa:

Type of J Visa	Amount (per month)
J-1 Research Scholar, Professor, or Short-Term Scholar	$2,400
J-1 Student Intern (Graduate Student Abroad)	$2,207
J-1 Student Intern (Undergraduate Student Abroad)	$2,012
J-2 dependent (spouse)	$800
J-2 Child (under 21 years old)	$400 (per child)

Reporting Changes

It is extremely important to notify the Faculty Advancement immediately if any of the following changes:

- Source or amount of your funding;
- U.S. address (must report within 10 days of moving);
- Travel outside of the U.S.;
- Site of activity or an additional site of activity; and
- Completing your program early.

Please visit the Faculty Advancement website at <http://fa.sdsu.edu/immigration/j1> for the necessary forms.

Failure to notify Faculty Advancement of these changes may result in termination of your participation in the exchange program and legal permission to stay in this country.

STEP 2: PAY YOUR SEVIS FEE

Now that you have your DS-2019, the next step is to pay your SEVIS fee. The SEVIS fee is a one-time fee that all J-1 visa applicants must pay. The fee covers the SEVIS system, which is the Department of Homeland Security's web-based data collection and monitoring system. This fee does not apply to your J-2 spouse or child, as they are covered under your SEVIS fee payment. To pay the SEVIS fee, please visit <https://www.fmifee.com/i901fee/index.html>.

The SEVIS fee is $220 (USD), and is separate from the visa application fee and the visa reciprocity issuance fee. Please pay the SEVIS fee at least 1 week prior to scheduling your visa appointment.

STEP 3: SCHEDULE YOUR VISA APPOINTMENT

Once the SEVIS fee has been paid, you may proceed with scheduling your visa appointment with a U.S. embassy or consulate. It is highly recommended that you schedule your visa appointment at a U.S. embassy or consulate in your home country, as they are more familiar with your country's background and may have better access to information. Please visit www.usembassy.gov to locate an embassy or consulate near you.

In order to schedule your appointment, visit the U.S. Department of State's Consular Electronic Application Center website at <https://ceac.state.gov/ceac/> and click on the "DS-160, Online Nonimmigrant Visa Application" link. You will need to complete the application, upload a current photo, and pay the $185 (USD) visa application fee when you schedule your visa appointment.

You may also be required to pay the visa reciprocity fee. Note this fee is based on your country of nationality. Visit <https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/us-visas.html> for more information.

STEP 4: ATTEND YOUR VISA INTERVIEW

At the date and time of your interview, you will need to bring the following:

- Passport
- Form DS-160 Nonimmigrant Visa Application confirmation page
- Visa application fee payment receipt
- Form DS-2019
- Form DS-7002 Training/Internship Placement Plan (J-1 Student Interns ONLY)
- Evidence of financial support
- Invitation letter from your SDSU host department
- Anything else that the embassy or consulate requested

During the interview, please listen closely to the questions, answer directly and most importantly answer truthfully. You are ineligible for a temporary (nonimmigrant) visa if you do not have a clear and definite intent to return to your country of citizenship or legal permanent residence. Any statement that would cast doubt on the firmness of intent to return home would likely lead to the denial of your nonimmigrant visa.

STEP 5: TRAVEL TO THE US

Your arrival to the U.S. must be within 30 days of your start date. Note that you cannot enter the U.S. with your J-1 visa more than 30 days prior to your start date. If your arrival is delayed, please let your SDSU contact know so that we can determine whether an amended DS-2019 is needed.

When you travel to the U.S., you should have your DS-2019 and passport with your J-1 visa stamp in your purse or carry-on luggage, as you will need to present these documents to the Immigration Inspector at the first U.S. port of entry. The DS-2019 should be returned to you after inspection.

STEP 6: REVIEW YOUR I-94 ADMISSIONS RECORD

Upon entry to the U.S., you will be assigned an admissions number, which is referred to as the I-94 Admissions Record. Your I-94 record may be retrieved electronically at <https://i94.cbp.dhs.gov>. If you are traveling via a land border, please read the information located on the I-94 CBP homepage, as an additional step is required.

It is your responsibility to check the I-94 electronic record to make sure you were admitted into the U.S. under the correct visa status and timeframe. If there are any issues, please contact Faculty Advancement immediately.

STEP 7: MEET WITH YOUR SDSU REPRESENTATIVE

As soon as you arrive to San Diego, you must contact your SDSU host department or dean's office to arrange a time to complete your immigration paperwork. When you meet with your contact, you will need to complete the J-1 Registration Form and provide the following:

- U.S. residential address
- U.S. telephone number
- DS-2019
- J-1 visa
- Passport with entry stamp
- I-94 admissions record

If you have dependents arriving with you, please provide copies of their documents as well.

This process should be completed as soon as you arrive in the U.S., and must be within 30 days of your start date. Please note that your SEVIS record must be validated no more than 30 days after your start date. If you cannot arrive within 30 days of your start date, please let your SDSU contact know so that we can adjust your start date.

During this time, you will also provide evidence that you meet the minimum health insurance requirements.

STEP 8: J-1 ORIENTATION & QUIZ

After you complete the J-1 Registration Form and provide your immigration documents, your immigration representative will send the form and copies of your documents to Faculty Advancement for processing. Once it is received by Faculty Advancement, you will receive an email with instructions on how to complete the mandatory J-1 orientation requirements.

Below are the steps you will need to complete upon arriving to the U.S.:

1. View the J-1 Scholar Orientation for SDSU at: <https://youtu.be/YKRzZBXFo0E>.
2. Complete the "J-1 Scholar Orientation Quiz & Certification Form" located on the J-1 Exchange Visitor Program page of the Faculty Advancement website at: <http://fa.sdsu.edu/immigration/j1>. The form is located under the "Arrival Information" section.

- Email the completed J-1 Scholar Orientation Quiz & Certification Form to Faculty Advancement at vanessa.campos@sdsu.edu within 7 days of receiving the email notification.

Note that J-1 orientation is mandatory. Your J-1 SEVIS record will not be activated and your J-1 registration will not be considered complete until the J-1 orientation requirement is met. Once you complete the steps, you will receive an email confirming that you have met the orientation requirements and that your SEVIS record has been activated.

STEP 9: MAINTAIN YOUR J-1 STATUS

Below please find information that you will need during and after your J-1 Exchange Visitor Program. For additional information, please contact Faculty Advancement or visit <http://fa.sdsu.edu/immigration/j1>. For questions unrelated to immigration, please contact your college immigration representative or your faculty mentor/supervisor.

Health Insurance Requirements

As participants of the J-1 program, you and your dependents (if applicable) are required to have health insurance, and medical evacuation and repatriation coverage for the entire length of your stay at SDSU. Please note the following:

- You must consider insurance requirements when making your budget projections.
- We recommend travel insurance that will cover your first month at SDSU, until other health coverage becomes effective.
- You and your accompanying dependents (if applicable) must be enrolled in and provide your SDSU host department proof of adequate health insurance coverage within 30 days of arrival.
- You may enroll in medical evacuation and repatriation insurance upon your arrival for individual or family coverage. Please contact your SDSU host department when you arrive for more information.

The minimum health insurance requirements that you must meet include all of the following:

- $100,000 per accident/illness;
- Repatriation benefits in the amount of at least $25,000;
- Medical evacuation expenses in the amount of $50,000 and;

- A deductible not to exceed $500 per accident or illness.

If you choose to use a health insurance plan from your home country, the insurance must:

- Meet the minimum health insurance requirements.
- Backed by the full faith and credit of the government in your home country.
- Have written documentation in English of dates of coverage and explanation of benefits, including daily U.S. rate of hospitalization and proof of amount of coverage in U.S. dollars. Please note, you will be required to sign a Health Insurance Memorandum of Understanding stating that you have been informed about the insurance requirements and that you will maintain them for yourself and your family during your stay at SDSU.

Failure to maintain health insurance could result in the termination of your J-1 status as well as jeopardize any possibility of participation in the SDSU Exchange Visitor Program in the future.

Also, please be aware that non-American health plans may require that you pay medical bills first and be reimbursed directly by your insurance company later.

The SDSU International Student Center is available to assist you with obtaining health insurance and can answer any questions you may have related to health insurance matters. Please email isc.reception@sdsu.edu or call (619) 594-1973 for assistance.

Maximum Time in J-1 Categories

Depending on your J-1 visa category, you are restricted on how long you may be in the U.S. for your J-1 program. The table below outlines the minimum and maximum times in which a person may be in a particular J-1 category. Please refer to Box 4 Exchange Visitor Category on your DS-2019 form to identify which category you are classified under.

J-1 Category	Min. Program Duration	Max. Program Duration
Professor	3 weeks	5 years
Research Scholar	3 weeks	5 years
Short-Term Scholar	1 day	6 months
Student Intern	3 weeks	1 year

A change of category is not permitted after the DS-2019 is issued. Additionally, unauthorized employment is a violation of program status. Your participation in the SDSU program is subject to termination if you engage in employment outside of SDSU.

J-1 Student Intern Evaluations (Student Interns ONLY)

If you are in the J-1 Student Intern category, you are required to go through an evaluation before you complete your program. For programs less than six months, one evaluation is required. This evaluation will occur towards the end of your program. For programs lasting more than six months, two evaluations are required—a mid-point evaluation and a final evaluation. Your SDSU faculty mentor/supervisor will complete your evaluation and discuss the results with you in person.

12-Month Bar (Research Scholars & Professors ONLY)

The 12-Month Bar is important to make note of if you are in the J-1 Research Scholar or Professor category, and especially if you have previously been in J-1 or J-2 status.

The 12-Month Bar indicates that you are ineligible to begin an exchange visitor program in the Research Scholar or Professor categories if you were physically present in any J status for all or part of the 12 months before your J-1 program is set to begin. Exceptions to this rule exist for J-1 transfers and those who have been present in J status in the Short-Term Scholar category.

24-Month Bar (Research Scholars & Professors ONLY)

The 24-Month Bar on repeat participation pertains only to exchange visitors in the Research Scholar or Professor categories who want to return to the U.S. on another J-1 in the Research Scholar or Professor category. This does not apply to anyone in the Short-Term Scholar category.

If you fall under the Research Scholar or Professor categories, regulations require that you wait 24 months before you may re-enter the US to participate in another J-1 program under the Research Scholar or Professor categories. Please note this 24-Month Bar will be in effect regardless of the duration of your program.

Two-Year Home Country Residence Requirement (212e)

Certain J-1 scholars and their family members may be subject to the Two-Year Home Country Residence Requirement (Two-Year Home Rule). Unlike the 24- and 12-Month Bars, the Two-Year Home Rule is specific to the individual and not the J-1 category in which they are in. If you are subject to the Two-Year Home Rule, you must return to your home country or country of permanent residence for at least 2 years after completing your education or cultural program before you can change or adjust to a certain nonimmigrant (H, L, K) or immigrant status.

There are three ways in which you may be subject to the Two-Year Home Rule:

- Government Funding - If any of your financial support comes from government funding (the U.S., your home country, or a government funded international organization), you are subject to the Two-Year Home Rule.
- Exchange Visitor Skills List – This Department of State’s Exchange Visitor Skills List identifies the fields of specialized knowledge and skills that are deemed necessary for the development of an exchange visitor’s home country. If your area of specialization is listed under your country’s name on the Skills List, you are subject to the Two-Year Home Rule.
- Medical Education or Training – If you come to the US for graduate medical education or training, you are subject to the Two-Year Home Rule.

When you attend your visa appointment, the consular officer will review your documentation and will annotate whether you are subject or not subject to the Two-Year Home Rule on your DS-2019. This annotation will be made at the bottom left hand corner of your DS-2019. You may also find this information on your J-1 visa stamp.

If you are subject to the Two-Year Home Rule, you may have the option of applying for a waiver. The U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services office accepts waiver applications and issues a decision whether you may waive this requirement. Contact Faculty Advancement if you are unclear as to whether you are subject to the Two-Year Home Rule or if you would like to apply for the waiver.

Social Security

If you will be earning income during your J-1 program, you must have a Social Security number (SSN). If you will not be earning income in the U.S., you are still eligible to apply for an SSN. J-2 dependents are ineligible for an SSN. To apply, you must visit the Social Security Administration office in Downtown San Diego. Please wait 10 days after your initial entry to the US and 5 days after completing the J-1 registration process before visiting the Social Security Administration office, as your SEVIS record must be validated prior to your visit.

The information for the office is below:

Social Security Administration
109 West Ash St.
San Diego, CA 92101
Open Monday through Friday 9:00 AM to 4:00 PM
No appointment necessary

When you apply for SSN, please bring the following:

- Your original passport with visa stamp;
- Your original DS-2019; and
- A copy of your I-94 admissions record from the CBP website; and a
- Copy of your SDSU invitation letter (if applicable)

For more information on applying for SSN, please visit <https://www.ssa.gov/ssnumber/>.

If you will be opening a U.S. bank account, you may be asked for your SSN. Please note that you do not need an SSN in order to open a U.S. bank account. You will, however, need to obtain an Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN) from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). You may apply for an ITIN by completing Form W-7 on the IRS website. For more information visit www.irs.gov and search for Form W-7.

California Driver's License

If you will be in California for more than a couple months, and intend to drive a car, it is recommended that you obtain a California driver's license. In order to obtain a driver's license, you must have an SSN. If your J-2 spouse would like to obtain a California driver's license, they will need to obtain a letter from the Social Security Administration indicating that they are ineligible for an SSN. A Social Security document (SSN or letter of ineligibility) must be obtained prior to applying for a driver's license.

If you would like to apply for a driver's license, and you have already obtained an SSN, you will need to prepare for the driving exam and behind-the-wheel test, which are both required by the California Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV). Note that in order to take the behind-the-wheel test, you must make an appointment and you must bring your own car. For specific information about the DMV tests, please visit <http://www.dmv.ca.gov/portal/dmv>.

Income Tax

If you have earned income from any U.S. source (the U.S. government, a U.S. foundation, or a U.S. employer), you must complete and file income tax forms by April 15 each year. At the time of hire, the SDSU Center for Human Resources will refer you to the Audit and Tax Analyst at SDSU, who will determine the amount of tax to be withheld from each paycheck, if any. You will receive a W-2 form and/or Form 1042-S that you must include when you file your tax return.

Income tax filing forms are available on the IRS website at <http://www.irs.gov>. You may also wish to contact a licensed tax expert to assist you with your filing. Failure to file an income tax return may affect your departure from the U.S. and your eligibility to return. For more information, please contact Faculty Advancement.
